Section D: Declaration of Novelty and Use of AI

How is this submitted manuscript scientifically novel?

This manuscript presents a preliminary results of the measurement of tissues biopsies in their native state. No prior sample preparation was carried out before measurement.

We also presented the fact that the mechanical properties of the tissues are heterogenous in nature, and that these properties can be patient dependent.

In this study, English Language tool, Grammarly, was used to correct the sentences contructed by the authors.

Please see the Author Guidelines for the AI use policy.

How was AI used in the generation of this manuscript?

It was only used to correct sentences and grammar.
